ANNUAL INDEX
Volume 39, 1994/1995

AUTHORS

Boomer, Lyman W., Tim S. Hartshorne, and C. Stuart Robertshaw, Confidentiality and Student Records: A Hypothetical Case, Winter (2), 15.

Braaten, Sheldon, Robert A. Gable, and Susan C. Stewart, Public Law 94-142: Twenty Years and Counting—Where Do We Stand? Spring (3), 4.

Brown, William H., and Samuel L. Odom, Naturalistic Peer Interventions for Promoting Preschool Children's Social Interactions, Summer (4), 38.

Cantrell, Robert P., and Mary Lynn Cantrell, Recapturing a Generation: The Future of Secondary Programs for Students With Disabilities, Spring (3), 25.

Cates, Dennis L., Marc A. Markell, and Sherrie Bettenhausen, At Risk for Abuse: A Teacher's Guide for Recognizing and Reporting Child Abuse, Winter (2), 6.

Dagley, David, Enforcing Compliance With IDEA: Dispute Resolution and Appropriate Relief, Winter (2), 27.

Davis, Carol Ann, Peers as Behavior Change Agents for Preschoolers With Behavioral Disorders: Using High Probability Requests, Summer (4), 4.

Fossey, Richard, Thomas Hosie, Karen Soniat, and Perry Zirkel, Section 504 and "Front Line" Educators: An Expanded Obligation to Serve Children With Disabilities, Winter (2), 10.

Gable, Robert A., Lyndal M. Bullock, and Dana L. Harader, Schools in Transition: The Challenge of Students With Aggressive and Violent Behavior, Spring (3), 29.

Goldstein, Howard, Kris English, Karin Shafer, and Louise Kaczmarek, Use of Peers as Change Agents in Communicative Interactions With Preschoolers With Disabilities, Summer (4), 16.

Greenwood, Charles R., and Joseph Delquadri, ClassWide Peer Tutoring and the Prevention of School Failure, Summer (4), 21.

Hardin, Debra Moore, and William Littlejohn, Family-School Collaboration: Elements of Effectiveness and Program Models, Fall (1), 4.

Kamps, Debra M., Cynthia Ellis, Catharine Mancina, and Lori Greene, Peer-Inclusive Social Skills Groups for Young Children With Behavioral Risks, Summer (4), 10.

Korinek, Lori, Virginia Laycock McLaughlin, and Christine S. Walther-Thomas, Least Restrictive Environment and Collaboration: A Bridge Over Troubled Water, Spring (3), 6.

Luetke-Stahlman, Barbara, and P. Lynn Haynes, Parent Advocacy for the Nonexclusion of Students Who Are Deaf or Hard of Hearing, Fall (1), 41.

Maag, John W., and Jo Webber, Promoting Children's Social Development in General Education Classrooms, Spring (3), 13.

Miller, Sidney R., Pamela F. Miller, Julie A. Armentrout, and Julia W. Flannagan, Cross-Age Peer Tutoring: A Strategy for Promoting Self-Determination in Students With Severe Emotional Disabilites/Behavior Disorders, Summer (4), 32.

Mundschenk, Nancy A., and Regina M. Foley, Collaborative Relationships Between School and Home: Implications for Service Delivery, Fall (1), 16.

Nietupski, John A., The Evolution of the LRE Concept for Students With Severe Disabilities, Spring (3), 40.

Osborne, Allan G., Jr., Procedural Due Process Rights for Parents Under the IDEA, Winter (2), 22.

Quinn, Mary Magee, Angel Jannasch-Pennell, and Robert B. Rutherford, Jr., Using Peers as Social Skills Training Agents for Students With Antisocial Behavior: A Cooperative Approach, Summer (4), 26.

Ramos, Kari L., Advocacy: Friend or Foe? Fall (1), 37.

Robinson, Eric L., and Marvin J. Fine, Developing Collaborative Home-School Relationships, Fall (1), 9.

Rogan, Joseph, Charles LaJeunesse, Patricia McCann, Gretchen McFarland, and Claire Miller, Facilitating Inclusion: The Role of Learning Strategies to Support Secondary Students With Special Needs, Spring (3), 35.

Searcy, Sheri, Building Friendships Together: From School to Home, Fall (1), 26.

Shriner, James G., and Richard J. Spicuzza, Procedural Considerations in the Assessment of Students at Risk for School Failure, Winter (2), 33.

Simpson, Richard L., and Janice DePalma Simpson, At-Risk and Disabled Students: Parent and Family Needs, Fall (1), 21.

Stewart, Susan C., Joyce S. Choate, and James A. Poteet, The Revolution in Assessment Within and Across Educational Settings, Spring (3), 20.

Townsend, Brenda L., Involving Families of At-Risk and Normally Achieving Children in Social Skill Instruction, Fall (1), 31.

Yell, Mitchell L., and Reece L. Peterson, Disciplining Students With Disabilities and Those at Risk for School Failure: Legal Issues, Winter (2), 39.

Yell, Mitchell L., The Law and Education of Students With Disabilities and Those at Risk for School Failure, Winter (2), 4.

Yell, Mitchell L., The Law and Inclusion: An Analysis and Commentary, Winter (2), 45.

TITLES

Advocacy: Friend or Foe? Kari L. Ramos, Fall (1), 37.

At Risk for Abuse: A Teacher's Guide for Recognizing and Reporting Child Abuse, Dennis L. Cates, Marc A. Markell, and Sherrie Bettenhausen, Winter (2), 6.

At-Risk and Disabled Students: Parent and Family Needs, Richard L. Simpson and Janice DePalma Simpson, Fall (1), 21.

Building Friendships Together: From School to Home, Sheri Searcy, Fall (1), 26.

ClassWide Peer Tutoring and the Prevention of School Failure, Charles R. Greenwood and Joseph Delquadri, Summer (4), 21.

Collaborative Relationships Between School and Home: Implications for Service Delivery, Nancy A. Mundschenk and Regina M. Foley, Fall (1), 16.

Confidentiality and Student Records: A Hypothetical Case, Lyman W. Boomer, Tim S. Hartshorne, and C. Stuart Robertshaw, Winter (2), 15.

Cross-Age Peer Tutoring: A Strategy for Promoting Self-Determination in Students With Severe Emotional Disabilites/Behavior Disorders, Sidney R. Miller, Pamela F. Miller, Julie A. Armentrout, and Julia W. Flannagan, Summer (4), 32.

Developing Collaborative Home-School Relationships, Eric L. Robinson and Marvin J. Fine, Fall (1), 9.

Disciplining Students With Disabilities and Those at Risk for School Failure: Legal Issues, Mitchell L. Yell and Reece L. Peterson, Winter (2), 39.

Enforcing Compliance With IDEA: Dispute Resolution and Appropriate Relief, David Dagley, Winter (2), 27.

The Evolution of the LRE Concept for Students With Severe Disabilities, John A. Nietupski, Spring (3), 40.

Facilitating Inclusion: The Role of Learning Strategies to Support Secondary Students With Special Needs, Joseph Rogan, Charles LaJeunesse, Patricia McCann, Gretchen McFarland, and Claire Miller, Spring (3), 35.

Family-School Collaboration: Elements of Effectiveness and Program Models, Debra Moore Hardin and William Littlejohn, Fall (1), 4.

Involving Families of At-Risk and Normally Achieving Children in Social Skill Instruction, Brenda L. Townsend, Fall (1), 31.

The Law and Education of Students With Disabilities and Those at Risk for School Failure, Mitchell L. Yell, Winter (2), 4.

The Law and Inclusion: An Analysis and Commentary, Mitchell L. Yell, Winter (2), 45.

Least Restrictive Environment and Collaboration: A Bridge Over Troubled Water, Lori Korinek, Virginia Laycock McLaughlin, and Christine S. Walther-Thomas, Spring (3), 6.

Naturalistic Peer Interventions for Promoting Preschool Children's Social Interactions, William H. Brown and Samuel L. Odom, Summer (4), 38.

Parent Advocacy for the Nonexclusion of Students Who Are Deaf or Hard of Hearing, Barbara Luetke-Stahlman and P. Lynn Haynes, Fall (1), 41.

Peer-Inclusive Social Skills Groups for Young Children With Behavioral Risks, Debra M Kamps, Cynthia Ellis, Catharine Mancina, and Lori Greene, Summer (4), 10.

Peers as Behavior Change Agents for Preschoolers With Behavioral Disorders: Using High Probability Requests, Carol Ann Davis, Summer (4), 4.

Procedural Considerations in the Assessment of Students at Risk for School Failure, James G. Shriner and Richard J. Spicuzza, Winter (2), 33.

ANNUAL INDEX
Volume 39, 1994/1995

AUTHORS

Boomer, Lyman W., Tim S. Hartshorne, and C. Stuart Robertshaw, Confidentiality and Student Records: A Hypothetical Case, Winter (2), 15.

Braaten, Sheldon, Robert A. Gable, and Susan C. Stewart, Public Law 94-142: Twenty Years and Counting—Where Do We Stand? Spring (3), 4.

Brown, William H., and Samuel L. Odom, Naturalistic Peer Interventions for Promoting Preschool Children's Social Interactions, Summer (4), 38.

Cantrell, Robert P., and Mary Lynn Cantrell, Recapturing a Generation: The Future of Secondary Programs for Students With Disabilities, Spring (3), 25.

Cates, Dennis L., Marc A. Markell, and Sherrie Bettenhausen, At Risk for Abuse: A Teacher's Guide for Recognizing and Reporting Child Abuse, Winter (2), 6.

Dagley, David, Enforcing Compliance With IDEA: Dispute Resolution and Appropriate Relief, Winter (2), 27.

Davis, Carol Ann, Peers as Behavior Change Agents for Preschoolers With Behavioral Disorders: Using High Probability Requests, Summer (4), 4.

Fossey, Richard, Thomas Hosie, Karen Soniat, and Perry Zirkel, Section 504 and "Front Line" Educators: An Expanded Obligation to Serve Children With Disabilities, Winter (2), 10.

Gable, Robert A., Lyndal M. Bullock, and Dana L. Harader, Schools in Transition: The Challenge of Students With Aggressive and Violent Behavior, Spring (3), 29.

Goldstein, Howard, Kris English, Karin Shafer, and Louise Kaczmarek, Use of Peers as Change Agents in Communicative Interactions With Preschoolers With Disabilities, Summer (4), 16.

Greenwood, Charles R., and Joseph Delquadri, ClassWide Peer Tutoring and the Prevention of School Failure, Summer (4), 21.

Hardin, Debra Moore, and William Littlejohn, Family-School Collaboration: Elements of Effectiveness and Program Models, Fall (1), 4.

Kamps, Debra M., Cynthia Ellis, Catharine Mancina, and Lori Greene, Peer-Inclusive Social Skills Groups for Young Children With Behavioral Risks, Summer (4), 10.

Korinek, Lori, Virginia Laycock McLaughlin, and Christine S. Walther-Thomas, Least Restrictive Environment and Collaboration: A Bridge Over Troubled Water, Spring (3), 6.

Luetke-Stahlman, Barbara, and P. Lynn Haynes, Parent Advocacy for the Nonexclusion of Students Who Are Deaf or Hard of Hearing, Fall (1), 41.

Maag, John W., and Jo Webber, Promoting Children's Social Development in General Education Classrooms, Spring (3), 13.

Miller, Sidney R., Pamela F. Miller, Julie A. Armentrout, and Julia W. Flannagan, Cross-Age Peer Tutoring: A Strategy for Promoting Self-Determination in Students With Severe Emotional Disabilites/Behavior Disorders, Summer (4), 32.

Mundschenk, Nancy A., and Regina M. Foley, Collaborative Relationships Between School and Home: Implications for Service Delivery, Fall (1), 16.

Nietupski, John A., The Evolution of the LRE Concept for Students With Severe Disabilities, Spring (3), 40.

Osborne, Allan G., Jr., Procedural Due Process Rights for Parents Under the IDEA, Winter (2), 22.

Quinn, Mary Magee, Angel Jannasch-Pennell, and Robert B. Rutherford, Jr., Using Peers as Social Skills Training Agents for Students With Antisocial Behavior: A Cooperative Approach, Summer (4), 26.

Ramos, Kari L., Advocacy: Friend or Foe? Fall (1), 37.

Robinson, Eric L., and Marvin J. Fine, Developing Collaborative Home-School Relationships, Fall (1), 9.

Rogan, Joseph, Charles LaJeunesse, Patricia McCann, Gretchen McFarland, and Claire Miller, Facilitating Inclusion: The Role of Learning Strategies to Support Secondary Students With Special Needs, Spring (3), 35.

Searcy, Sheri, Building Friendships Together: From School to Home, Fall (1), 26.

Shriner, James G., and Richard J. Spicuzza, Procedural Considerations in the Assessment of Students at Risk for School Failure, Winter (2), 33.

Simpson, Richard L., and Janice DePalma Simpson, At-Risk and Disabled Students: Parent and Family Needs, Fall (1), 21.

Stewart, Susan C., Joyce S. Choate, and James A. Poteet, The Revolution in Assessment Within and Across Educational Settings, Spring (3), 20.

Townsend, Brenda L., Involving Families of At-Risk and Normally Achieving Children in Social Skill Instruction, Fall (1), 31.

Yell, Mitchell L., and Reece L. Peterson, Disciplining Students With Disabilities and Those at Risk for School Failure: Legal Issues, Winter (2), 39.

Yell, Mitchell L., The Law and Education of Students With Disabilities and Those at Risk for School Failure, Winter (2), 4.

Yell, Mitchell L., The Law and Inclusion: An Analysis and Commentary, Winter (2), 45.

TITLES

Advocacy: Friend or Foe? Kari L. Ramos, Fall (1), 37.

At Risk for Abuse: A Teacher's Guide for Recognizing and Reporting Child Abuse, Dennis L. Cates, Marc A. Markell, and Sherrie Bettenhausen, Winter (2), 6.

At-Risk and Disabled Students: Parent and Family Needs, Richard L. Simpson and Janice DePalma Simpson, Fall (1), 21.

Building Friendships Together: From School to Home, Sheri Searcy, Fall (1), 26.

ClassWide Peer Tutoring and the Prevention of School Failure, Charles R. Greenwood and Joseph Delquadri, Summer (4), 21.

Collaborative Relationships Between School and Home: Implications for Service Delivery, Nancy A. Mundschenk and Regina M. Foley, Fall (1), 16.

Confidentiality and Student Records: A Hypothetical Case, Lyman W. Boomer, Tim S. Hartshorne, and C. Stuart Robertshaw, Winter (2), 15.

Cross-Age Peer Tutoring: A Strategy for Promoting Self-Determination in Students With Severe Emotional Disabilites/Behavior Disorders, Sidney R. Miller, Pamela F. Miller, Julie A. Armentrout, and Julia W. Flannagan, Summer (4), 32.

Developing Collaborative Home-School Relationships, Eric L. Robinson and Marvin J. Fine, Fall (1), 9.

Disciplining Students With Disabilities and Those at Risk for School Failure: Legal Issues, Mitchell L. Yell and Reece L. Peterson, Winter (2), 39.

Enforcing Compliance With IDEA: Dispute Resolution and Appropriate Relief, David Dagley, Winter (2), 27.

The Evolution of the LRE Concept for Students With Severe Disabilities, John A. Nietupski, Spring (3), 40.

Facilitating Inclusion: The Role of Learning Strategies to Support Secondary Students With Special Needs, Joseph Rogan, Charles LaJeunesse, Patricia McCann, Gretchen McFarland, and Claire Miller, Spring (3), 35.

Family-School Collaboration: Elements of Effectiveness and Program Models, Debra Moore Hardin and William Littlejohn, Fall (1), 4.

Involving Families of At-Risk and Normally Achieving Children in Social Skill Instruction, Brenda L. Townsend, Fall (1), 31.

The Law and Education of Students With Disabilities and Those at Risk for School Failure, Mitchell L. Yell, Winter (2), 4.

The Law and Inclusion: An Analysis and Commentary, Mitchell L. Yell, Winter (2), 45.

Least Restrictive Environment and Collaboration: A Bridge Over Troubled Water, Lori Korinek, Virginia Laycock McLaughlin, and Christine S. Walther-Thomas, Spring (3), 6.

Naturalistic Peer Interventions for Promoting Preschool Children's Social Interactions, William H. Brown and Samuel L. Odom, Summer (4), 38.

Parent Advocacy for the Nonexclusion of Students Who Are Deaf or Hard of Hearing, Barbara Luetke-Stahlman and P. Lynn Haynes, Fall (1), 41.

Peer-Inclusive Social Skills Groups for Young Children With Behavioral Risks, Debra M Kamps, Cynthia Ellis, Catharine Mancina, and Lori Greene, Summer (4), 10.

Peers as Behavior Change Agents for Preschoolers With Behavioral Disorders: Using High Probability Requests, Carol Ann Davis, Summer (4), 4.

Procedural Considerations in the Assessment of Students at Risk for School Failure, James G. Shriner and Richard J. Spicuzza, Winter (2), 33.

Procedural Due Process Rights for Parents Under the IDEA, Allan G. Osborne, Jr., Winter (2), 22.
Promoting Children's Social Development in General Education Classrooms, John W. Maag and Jo Webber, Spring (3), 13.
Public Law 94-142: Twenty Years and Counting—Where Do We Stand? Sheldon Braaten, Robert A. Gable, and Susan C. Stewart, Spring (3), 4.
Recapturing a Generation: The Future of Secondary Programs for Students With Disabilities, Robert P. Cantrell and Mary Lynn Cantrell, Spring (3), 25.
The Revolution in Assessment Within and Across Educational Settings, Susan C. Stewart, Joyce S. Choate, and James A. Poteet, Spring (3), 20.
Schools in Transition: The Challenge of Students With Aggressive and Violent Behavior, Robert A. Gable, Lyndal M. Bullock, and Dana L. Harader, Spring (3), 29.
Section 504 and "Front Line" Educators: An Expanded Obligation to Serve Children With Disabilities, Richard Fossey, Thomas Hosie, Karen Soniat, and Perry Zirkel, Winter (2), 10.
Use of Peers as Change Agents in Communicative Interactions With Preschoolers With Disabilities, Howard Goldstein, Kris English, Karin Shafer, and Louise Kaczmarek, Summer (4), 16.
Using Peers as Social Skills Training Agents for Students With Antisocial Behavior: A Cooperative Approach, Mary Magee Quinn, Angel Jannasch-Pennell, and Robert B. Rutherford, Jr., Summer (4), 26.